Lionel Train Collectors Will Descend on Omaha For Their 54th Annual Convention

OMAHA, Neb. – The Lionel Collectors Club of America (LCCA) will hold its national convention in Omaha, Neb., July 7 to 13, 2024. The model train collectors will headquarter their event at the Omaha Hilton Hotel in downtown and visit toy and real train-related attractions across Nebraska and Iowa during early July.

Over 300 collectors, spouses, children and fans of the iconic Lionel model electric train brand are expected to attend.

Club President and CEO Mark Kempfer said, “The Lionel Collectors Club of America was formed in 1970 in nearby Iowa. So, it is only fitting that we return to our Midwest roots in Omaha.”

The event will include model train layouts, seminars on all things model railroading, and presentations by executives of Lionel. And no model railroad convention would be complete without a swap meet. The LCCA will hold a two-day train show/swap meet in the convention hotel on Friday and Saturday, with much of the meet open to the general public as well as attending members.

The convention will also include tours of area rail attractions during the week. LCCA members will have the opportunity to visit the many area museums and railroad attractions.

Specific details will be announced on the club’s website, in The Lion Roars™ club magazine and in other media early in 2024. #LCCAOmaha
